"If Antarctica were music, it would be Mozart. Art, and it would be Michelangelo. Literature, and it would be Shakespeare. And yet it is something even greater: the only place on earth that is still as it should be. May we never tame it."

BEN SAUNDERS

Ben Saunders is a polar explorer, endurance athlete and motivational speaker
Ben Saunders is a polar explorer, endurance athlete and motivational speaker who has covered more than 7,000km of Arctic and Antarctic terrain in the past two decades.

As the leader of the longest human-powered polar journey in history, Ben will impart his incredible knowledge of what it takes to survive in Antarctica and teach you the skills of a true polar explorer.

A person wearing a blue jacket and an orange helmet is climbing a massive glacier. The glacier is a deep blue color and has a rough, jagged surface. The person is using a wooden pole for support. The background shows more of the glacier and some snow. The overall scene is a high-altitude, cold environment.

DAILY ACTIVITIES

ARCTIC TRUCKS

The most effective and versatile vehicle in the polar regions is the Arctic truck 6x6. You will learn the nuanced skills of handling one of these machines on the glaciers and rocks of the Schirmacher oasis.

GLACIER TRAVERSE

Learn how to traverse glaciers using crampons and ice axes. Crevasses pose one of the great dangers of exploring in Antarctica and Ben will explain the basics of rope work and polar safety.

ICE CLIMBING

Antarctica is the last frontier with many unclimbed peaks waiting to be conquered. Learn how to scale walls of ice in this most extraordinary environment.

CRYSTAL CAVES

Should the weather turn, the only opportunity for shelter is in the ice caves. Explore a stunning network of caves that are unique to this region.

POLAR NUTRITION

In this extreme environment your body will burn calories at a tremendous rate. Using the latest dehydrated food, we will teach you to eat well despite the conditions.

PACKING THE PULKA

When man-hauling to the Pole, your sled is your lifeline. Everything you need will have to fit inside your sled and Ben will teach you how to stay warm and comfortable for your night's camp out.

CAMP OUT

The trip will culminate in a night camping out on the glacier, the perfect opportunity to put your polar skills to the test and appreciate what it takes!

“ It is not down in any map; true places never are.” Herman Melville

FULL ITINERARY

DAY ONE

The flight to Antarctica is 5 hours, crossing the thousands of icebergs spread over the Southern ocean. Halfway through the flight we cross into the polar circle and will experience 24 hours continuous daylight.

Landing on the specialist ice runway, you will be surrounded by the Wolf's Fang range, a true spectacle of the continent. We spend the afternoon amongst kilometre-high monoliths of rock, before connecting to Whichaway camp.

DAY THREE

Tonight, we camp out! To prepare you, Ben will help you pack your sled and ensure you are ready for one of the most remote campsites on earth. We will cross-country ski (or walk) into the mountains, passing huge cliff faces, wind scoops and iridescent blue ice.

As you close the zip on the door of your tent, you will experience what it is like to be a true explorer.

DAY TWO

Ben will draw on his polar experience to teach you how to survive, and even be comfortable, in Antarctica.

Our first adventure begins at the base of a stunning 'Nunatak' mountain. With crampons on your feet and ice-axes in your hands, you will scale a vertical wall of ice and 'top out' on the summit.

Returning from the summit, you will be collected by a fleet of Arctic truck 6x6 vehicles and discover just how capable these machines are in this environment. Learn to drive on incredible routes over seemingly impossible terrain!

DAY FOUR

We delve into the ice tunnels and caves near Which away camp, where the white landscape betrays nothing of the extraordinary environment just beneath the surface. Created by melt water, the caves extend for hundreds of metres and are a magical place to explore.

Later that day, we climb across a 200ft rock face that overlooks the ice waves. While the walk is not technically difficult it might get the adrenaline pumping, and will prove the perfect way to complete this unique experience.
